

HOW IT WAS CELEBRATED.

THANKSGIVING DAY IN HONOLULU CITY.

The Services at the Churches—Football and Cricket Matches—Turkey and Cranberries.

Both the Central Union church and St. Andrew's Cathedral were well filled yesterday morning at the special thanksgiving services held in both places of worship.

At eleven o'clock a number of admirers of the English game went out to the old ball grounds where eleven from H. M. S. Champion and the local club competed for victory. The Champions made seven-eight in the first innings, due principally to the good batting of Prentiss, Gibbons and Nugent. The home team in their first bout at the bat were disposed of for fourteen runs in one, two, three order, the players seemingly becoming "rattled" when their best batsman was bowled out for one run. After this innings a bounteous lunch was served in the house formerly occupied by Colonel Soper, and the Honolulu team braced themselves up for the second innings. The spread was furnished by T. Krouse of the Arlington, and although all the cricketers and their friends fared sumptuously there was enough left for twenty or thirty more. In their second innings the local team got forty-six runs together, T. Lishman making twelve. The Champion team won the match by one innings and eighteen runs.

The great attraction of the day, however, was football, and nearly a thousand people went out to the grounds to witness the game between the Pacific and Punahou teams. In the first half there was some excellent all-round playing, in which first one side and then the other crossed the winning line, and when time was called the score stood at four for each side. In the second half the Punahou team showed greater skill and staying power and succeeded in making 8 more points to their opponents. A few minutes before the game was ended Corbett, one of the best players of the Pacific, was knocked senseless in a rush and was retired, his place being taken by James Spencer. Mr. Corbett's injuries were only temporary and he soon recovered. The usual accompaniments of a football match were present in the shape of varicolored ribbons, rosettes, the fanfare of tin horns of all sizes and descriptions and the inevitable mascots. For the latter the Punahou team brought out Uncle Sam in the college colors with umbrella and beard to match, while the Pacific trotted out a young donkey with red trappings and the name of the club in white. The latter "hoodooed" the game for the Pacific by taking a roll in the dust about the home plate of the diamond, ignominiously trampling the club's colors under foot and otherwise misconducting himself.

The balance of the day was put in by all classes and conditions of Honolulu in discussing turkey and other "fixings" and in social enjoyment, a number of dinner parties being given by prominent people.

BURGLARY LAST NIGHT.

Larry Dee's Saloon Entered and the Money-drawer Emptied.

Burglars gained admittance to the Criterion Saloon last night and helped themselves to the contents of the money-drawer besides a bottle of brandy, some cigars and other good things. Entrance was effected through the rear door in the alley-way and the burglar or burglars must have climbed over the roof of some out-buildings on the Union-street side to have got into the passage. A hole was cut in the panel of the door by which a hand was introduced and the spring lock drawn back. An effort was first made with a jimmy to pry the door open, but it was useless. The opening seems to have been made with a penknife and must have taken some time. Once inside the burglar emptied the till of the small change usually left over night, in this instance about $10, and then devoted his attention to the safe. This, however, defied his efforts, so he relaxed himself with a bottle of French brandy and some of Larry's best cigars, neglecting to pick up a stack of silver, containing $15, which had been left standing on the shelf close to the brandy. The burglary was discovered when the door to the alleyway was opened to let the ice man in at 5 o'clock this morning. The police were at once notified, but no clues have yet been obtained.

Precocious Youth.

A lady sends the STAR the following, with a request for publication: "One of the most youthful pupils of Mrs. Dodge's school for little folks, upon her return home yesterday, informed her parents that Mrs. Dodge was going to have 'damnation' soon. The ambitious four-year-old wanted to know if her mama thought that she would be ready for 'paratory.' The mother thought immediate promotion would be better."

The prophecy of the Weather Bureau that rain would fall on Thanksgiving day did not come off, at least not in Honolulu. The local cricket club heard something drop, however.

A number of natives living in the cottages on the Waikiki side of the ex-palace have moved out for fear of getting hurt in any possible conflict.

The ejection case of Sylvia vs. Ka-hauki tried on Tuesday resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff, with $1 damages.

Burglars are busy in town, and the wise man empties his money drawer before shutting up for the night.

Harmony Lodge, I. O. O. F., will elect officers on Monday.

COUNCIL MEETING.

Minister Damon's Statement on the Political Question.

The regular weekly meeting of the Executive and Advisory Councils was held yesterday afternoon, Ministers Dole, King, Damon and Smith and Councilmen Waterhouse, Allen, Emmeluth, Bolte, Morgan, Brown, Sahr, Nott, Wilder, Meudones and Ena being present.

After reading the minutes of the 23rd and 24th ult., the Minister of Finance presented his weekly statement, showing the receipts of the week to have been $17,206 31, in addition to $3000 realized from the sale of bonds. The expenditures were $10,113 76, leaving a balance in the general fund of $167,749 04. The total cash resources of the Government on November 30th were $272,959 68.

Reports were read from F. B. McStocker, Deputy Collector of Customs, and from the Judiciary Committee.

Councilman Ena asked the members of the Executive Council to define the present political situation, stating that considerable uneasiness existed in the community. Mr. Damon replied as follows:

"This matter has given us all a great deal of consideration, and while I am only voicing my own views in the matter, I feel that it is due to the Advisory Council, and perhaps to those of the public who are interested in this situation, that some statement by an individual member of the Executive Council, who has given it some thought and consideration, might not be out of place. I look upon this whole movement which was inaugurated not only last January, but which dates many, many years back, as one of closest relations to the United States. It is a national matter—it is not a matter confined to a particular party or to a particular faction—it is a question that affects every man, woman and child in these islands. It even goes farther than that, and perhaps that is one of the reasons that the United States have been slow to act, because it has been such a new departure in their foreign policy to take the Hawaiian Islands as a part of the great republic, but I think in all their relations with this country they have shown discretion, they have shown a kindly feeling, they have shown sentiment in every way that can be evinced towards us.

What the present situation may be with the heads of the Government at Washington, we have no right to say that we know their explicit views now until we have heard from them definitely. To-day after thinking over the matter I have written a letter to a gentleman in San Francisco who has taken a deep interest in the matter, and if you will allow me, Mr. President, to read it as being simply my own views, I will do so.

"I feel that where the American public has taken the interest that they have in us, no act injurious to us will be allowed to be commenced against us. We are safe in the hands of the American Republic to-day. American is written from Bird Island to the extreme limit of Hawaii. You cannot touch a spot on Hawaii but it is American. It is American in sentiment, it is American in progress, it is American in everything. You cannot drive it away. There is no man living that can down American sentiment in this country. "And while I am an Hawaiian, I feel to-day that I shall some day have the right, not because my father and mother were Americans, to vote as an American citizen, but simply because I came from the Hawaiian Islands and we are a part of that great American nation."

The Attorney-General stated that the Executive Council was determined to resist any attacks upon the Government from whatever source.

At 2 p. m. the Councils went into special session.

NEWS IN A NUTSHELL.

The trustees of the Sailor's Home are holding a meeting this afternoon.

Polynesian Encampment, I. O. O. F., meets to-night. There will be work in the second degree.

A number of landmen and ladies visited the entertainment on the Philadelphia last night.

Seventeen civil cases called in the Circuit Court on Wednesday went over to the February term.

There will be no football to-morrow but the Healanis and Myrtles will play baseball at 3 o'clock.

Parties who go to hear the band concert should not take live ducks along under the buggy seat.

The program of the entertainment to be given the British sailors at the Y. M. C. A. building this evening appears in another column.

PERSONAL.

Born, on Wednesday morning, to the wife of Ensign Marvel, U. S. N., a boy, weight, ten pounds.

A. Dreier, General Cunliffe and Rev. N. Isenberg have gone to Kauai.

Mrs. J. T. Stack and Miss N. Burns arrived from Hanakua yesterday on the Waialeale.

H. A. Widemann was the only passenger from Waianae on the Kaala.

November Mortuary Report. During the past month there have been sixty deaths in Honolulu, nine of which were the result of cholera infantum, and a like number resulted from fevers. Eight deaths were caused by consumption and five from unknown causes. There was but one suicide, and three deaths are reported as the result of old age.

This is the greatest number of deaths reported during the month of November for several years.

AS TO THE RED COATS.

THEY WOULD COME ASHORE TO PROTECT BRITONS.

No Other Purpose, and No Likelihood of a Protectorate. What Englishmen Were Told.

The other day when the rumors of restoration came so thick and fast two British subjects went to enquire what protection their Government would give them in the event of fighting here. Later they were found in the Union saloon, where they talked over what had been said to them in the hearing of a man who reported the facts to the STAR.

It appears that upon an outbreak or an invasion by the United States forces, the Champion's men will come ashore and form a hollow square about the British Legation, or such other place as Minister Waterhouse may choose as his headquarters. All British subjects will be invited to come within the lines and there they will find safety. Owing to the paucity of numbers, no British marines or sailors will be detailed to guard property. That will be left to the American and Hawaiian Governments, particularly the former, which was said in the House of Commons a month ago to have been vested with that responsibility.

The Englishmen were assured further that the British forces had no other object in coming ashore than the one stated, and that they did not expect to establish a protectorate.

OUR HAWAIIAN LETTER.

Rescue of Wrecked South Sea Islanders—Other News Notes.

HAWAIIAN, Nov. 27.—The all-absorbing topic of the district is the continued drought. What will be done if the rain holds off four or five more days is a question that is a puzzle to everyone. There is no fresh water for miles and miles, excepting at Honokaa. I understand the mill is using condensed sea-water and there is but a small flow of that, which has to be pumped up from the Honokaa landing, some mile away or so.

There is plenty of snow on the mountain, which is, of course, indicative of much rain here, but we got none near the Government road.

The mills are grinding and the cane is yielding about two or three tons to the acre, which is reckoned a very large average considering the dry spell.

The carpenter at Honokaa mill, Mr. O'Brien, met with rather a serious accident a few days ago. He was superintending the raising of about two tons of sugar-cane, when a rope in the pulley slipped and wound itself around Mr. O'Brien's legs bringing him to the ground. No bones are broken, but he is somewhat bruised and it is thought he will be some days still confined to his house.

The Waialeale arrived at Kukaileale on Friday, bringing a mail. On board they had a South Sea Islander and his wife.

It seems that just off Lahaina, at about 3 a. m. on Monday, certain of the crew heard some shouting out at sea, and called the captain's attention to the fact. To the captain the cries seemed to be from someone requiring help, and he at once sent a boat off in the direction from which the sounds were heard. After some time the boat returned, bringing a man and his wife. From their statement it appears they had gone out fishing in the early part of the day and towards sundown their canoe had gone to pieces. There was nothing left but for the two to swim towards land. They were picked up by the Waialeale after being in the water nearly ten hours. The woman when brought on board was completely exhausted, and it was evident she could not have lived another hour if help had not come when it did.

To Captain Smythe and his gallant crew much praise is due for their noble behavior. Among the passengers was Mrs. Stack, of Honolulu, who with her little daughter is staying, I understand, at Honokaa as the guest of Mrs. C. B. Greenfield.

We read with much surprise the news in the extra edition of the STAR received on Sunday morning. Although we had looked for news sooner or later of the attitude of America towards this country yet no one seems to have expected news, and such news, so soon.

It is to be hoped that no trouble will arise, in any shape or form, when the result of the deliberations of the powers that be is finally made known, and that all animosity and party-spirit will cease, and peace and harmony will once more reign in this Paradise of the Pacific.

Will Leave for the Coast.

Hon. George Van Houten, who has spent several months on these islands and has made himself familiar with all the phases of their political life, will leave for the United States by an early steamer and will be heard from later in the American press regarding Hawaiian matters.

One of the principal attractions of the Pantheon saloon, a large plate-glass mirror, fell down last night and was smashed to smithereens.

To-night Portugal's Independence day will be celebrated by the first open air concert of the Progresso Lusitano band. The concert will be given in Alapai street.

The suit for damages of George Whiting against Antone Sylvia is on trial to-day before Judge Whiting and a mixed jury.

Castle & Cooke have let a contract to Wm. Mutch to put down a concrete sidewalk on the Bethel street side of their store.

WUNDENBERG SUSPENDED

TO SHOW CAUSE WHY HE SHOULD NOT BE REMOVED.

The Supreme Court Will Hear His Reply to the Attorney-General's Charges on Monday.

The Attorney-General yesterday addressed the following to the Justices of the Supreme Court:

In the matter of the alleged misconduct in office of F. W. Wundenberg, a clerk in the Circuit Court of the First Circuit.

The undersigned, William O. Smith, Attorney-General, upon his official oath, informs and gives your honors to understand that F. W. Wundenberg of Honolulu, in said judicial circuit, while a deputy clerk of the judicial department and clerk as aforesaid, and after having taken an official oath to support and bear true allegiance to the Provisional Government of the Hawaiian Islands, was in his said office as clerk, guilty of misconduct in making certain malicious, untrue and misleading statements to James H. Blount, Special Commissioner of the United States of America in Honolulu, on or about the 26th day of April, 1893, designed and intended to show that the said Provisional Government was established in pursuance of some improper understanding, arrangement and conspiracy between certain persons in said Honolulu on the one hand and His Excellency John L. Stevens, late Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the said United States; and also in making in said Honolulu, at various times in the eight months last past divers statements and remarks to divers persons, to the same effect as said statements made by him to the said James H. Blount; and also during said eight months in said Honolulu did, in the hearing and presence of divers persons use defamatory and calumniating language of and concerning the said Provisional Government intended and designed to disparage and bring into contempt the said Government and its principal officers.

Wherefore the said Attorney-General prays that the said F. W. Wundenberg be served with a copy of the foregoing and that he be cited to appear before your Honors at a time to be set, and show cause, if any he have, why he should not be removed from office.

In accordance with the above, Chief Justice Judd ordered a citation issued, summoning Wundenberg to show cause, on Monday next at 10 a. m., why he should not be removed from office. A copy of the petition and order was served on Wundenberg yesterday by officer Fehlberg.

A CALL TO ARMS.

The Spirit of '76 as the Times Have Brought It Out.

EDITOR STAR: It is a source of unspeakable gratification to all true law-abiding citizens of this American colony to listen to the friendly voice of the American people as it comes wafted to us across the narrow path of ocean. In no uncertain sound we are told to stand up for our rights, our liberty and our sacred honor. "Your fate is in your hands," they tell us. It is also gratifying to learn that 1500 men on the Pacific coast of America have volunteered to come to the aid and support of the Provisional Government. But suppose the Sugar Trust or some other body of men, seeking their own selfish aims and purposes, dispatch a vessel to this island, armed and equipped with 300 or more men; suppose in the meantime Grover Cleveland had ordered all American naval ships away from Hawaiian waters and no other ships of war happened to be in the harbor. Upon arrival of the piratical gang, notice is given that the ex-Queen is to be restored and if the Provisional Government do not quietly step down war will at once be commenced against them. In such an event what would be the duty of the Government and its supporters? I venture, Mr. Editor, to anticipate your reply, and answer rested and fight as long as life shall last, or drive the enemy from our shores. It has been stated that Grover Cleveland has for ten long weary months been laying a plot to overthrow this Christian Government, which is supported by men who are as true and as loyal to the best interests of the United States of America as any of its best citizens who have never seen the light of day in any other land.

Now suppose for the moment that it should prove true, as many fear, for good and sufficient reason, that Cleveland has decided to carry out his plot regardless of the authority of law and in direct opposition to the unanimous voice of the American people. Suppose Minister Will should receive explicit orders to restore the ex-Queen to power, at all hazards, to call upon Admiral Irwin to land his forces, and if found necessary to open fire upon the Provisional Government, what would be the duty of the Provisional Government under such circumstances? Again pardon me for answering my own question by telling you I believe every true American at home or abroad would endorse the action of the Provisional Government in returning at once Mr. Willis his passport and to refuse further recognition of a representative of a foreign power which had committed an act of war without the least provocation or the recognized authority of law. If force should be landed under such circumstances it would not be force from the United States of America, but an act of piracy under the command of freebooter Cleveland, against which this Government should wage war to the bitter end. Under such circumstances nothing short of death could, in the eyes of true men anywhere in the Christian world, excuse this Government and its supporters for laying down their arms to the latter end.

Right makes might! Knowing we are right, we dare maintain, and God in His own time and in His own way will surely give us the victory.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

SOME RADICAL CHANGES MADE YESTERDAY.

The Trouble Caused by Nattie Fireman Objecting to Being Housed by White Men.

It was lucky for the city of Honolulu that no fire broke out between eleven o'clock and noon yesterday, for, owing to the sudden resignation of twelve firemen out of the twenty-six or seven employed, the Fire Department was sadly crippled. The trouble, such as it was, arose in this way:

At the meeting of the Fire Commissioners on Wednesday Frank Cooper was appointed to the vacant position of Senior Foreman upon the recommendation of Chief Engineer Hunt. This appointment did not give satisfaction to a number of the native firemen for the reason that they were not consulted in the choice and that they seem to have an idea that none but natives should be employed in the department. Shortly after 11 a. m. yesterday Chief Engineer Hunt paid off the men, as it is his usual custom, and a few minutes afterwards George Townsend, driver of the hose cart, entered the chief's private office and threw his badge on the table, stating that he then and there gave up his job. He was followed by eleven other native members of the department who went through the same course. The chief asked for reasons but none were given, except that some of the men said they did not propose to be bossed by white men.

By this procedure the central engine house was left with only the chief, engineer and driver, and the department was crippled. The chief, however, was equal to the emergency and telephoned the state of affairs to the Commissioners. Two of them, Messrs A. Brown and George W. Smith responded immediately. Captain Gunn coming later, and the chief was ordered to fill the vacancies at once and to use his own judgment in the selection of his men. In less than an hour new and better men were on duty, and instructions were issued not to allow any of the old men about the engine houses. The names of those whose sudden resignation practically left the city at the mercy of the fire-fighters at time are published for the information of property owners. They are: Wm. Keane, foreman of No. 1; J. Boltie, stoker of No. 2; J. W. McDonald, driver of single hose cart; George Townsend, driver of hose cart; Andrew Jackson, messenger; Kanululu, C. K. Nui, Tom Price, N. George, Phillip, Robert Sybil and C. W. Cloud, hosemen; all natives.

The new appointees are white men, all of whom have native blood in their veins. They are: Thomas King, driver of the hose cart; J. P. May, stoker of No. 2; E. R. Ryan, foreman No. 1; J. J. Carlsen, Chas. Bloom, P. W. Ryan, Chas. Lambert, Douglas Brown, S. Stanford, G. W. Hellickson and G. Nelson, hosemen. The position of messenger has not yet been filled.

The Commissioners remained in consultation with the Chief Engineer until everything was in running order again. Ryan, the new foreman of No. 1, was formerly engineer of No. 2 under the volunteer organization, while many of the other appointees have had some experience with the department. The positions range from $75 to $40 per month.

The Coffee Dam Nearly Drove the Ship Shows Her Colors—The Mail Delayed.

The Australia is due to-morrow.

The barkentine Imgard went on the marine railway this morning.

The bark Albert received 1500 bags of sugar from the Waialeale this morning.

The bark R. P. Rither received 1778 bags of sugar from the Waialeale to-day.

The Enoch Talbot is taking ballast at the new wharf, having almost completed discharging coal.

The steamer W. G. Hall was detained nearly an hour this morning by heavy cargo which, owing to the half holiday yesterday, remained to be handled this morning.

The coffee dam has been taken over to the Mowea, where preparations for sinking it under the vessel's stern are being made. The big box will probably be in place to-morrow.

Although yesterday was pretty generally recognized by the masters of vessels in port as a holiday, work was kept up till noon. The only vessel in the harbor displaying any flags was the Alden Besse.

The Waialeale brought a part of the damaged machinery, consisting of a part of the clarifier and a roller, from the Pacific sugar mill at Kukaileale, Hawaii, yesterday. The machinery is to be repaired at the iron works.

"The Naniwa is outside." That's what a great many people reported to each other yesterday as they hurried down to the water-front to see the Japanese cruiser come in, and "its only the Kaala." Was what they said a little later as the pilot boat brought Captain Sheppard back, and Harbor Master Fuller returned to the wharf with an air that said, "Don't look at me." Captain Sam Thompson paced the bridge of the Kaala, twirling his moustache a la Philadelphia and looking at the Kanakas in a way to make them tremble. Then the populace sadly took its departure, enjoying the melancholy satisfaction of grumbling at the Diamond-Head lookout because he took the Kaala for the Naniwa.
